To make a good big brother that is the way:

From small giving guidance or direction and in childhood or early learner, not given a spectacle that could affect the development of, for example, the spectacle of a fight scene with her friends or improper spectacle viewed by minors , I think the spectacle will make children become brutal and arrogant. Therefore children are not given a spectacle that will keep your child in the practice arrogant and politeness or good habit to avoid the things that are not in want.

Sometimes the media and friends can play a major factor in development. I think both parents or sister can be a good example for his son or his brother to avoid unwanted things or things that would be brutal and needs a child can imitate good deeds.

A good best friend should be able to keep her secret, need to establish communication and always silaturahmi. Usually, a good best friend did not want to bother her. She always helps her friends without asking for reward. Sometimes, a friend who we think is good even become enemies within us. Maybe, she just wanted to be a parasite in her life who have believed in her.*

A Good Son

A good son is certainly a dream and hope of all parents. But in making a good son, certainly needs a lot of patience and unyielding spirit. A mother will do anything for her son, but mother should also give firmness to her child, so the child is not spoiled. I believe that education from an early age have an impact on a child's in the future. Father also had an important role, though not often at home, but the children always follow his father. As well as neighbors, can make an impact for children. In my opinion to make a good son is :

1. Do not ever yell at the children, always speaking gently, so the child will melt and not rebel against to the parents.
2. Not always blame the kid in trouble, because the child's parents are the role models. we should introspect ourselves first.
3. Do not ever hit, never lie, give the answer of the question.
4. Do not ever turn his curiosity, but instead give them the satisfaction of an answer, they will be satisfied.
5. Do not ever teach kids something that has not been aged. if they know about something that should not he know, give a positive explanation, according to age.
6. Teach children positive things, to learn, read and play. we can give props to make it interesting.
7. Teach children to always pray, give thanks and sincere. it will give the child a sense of inner calm.

So, I think a good child's is a good parents behind them.
